We have worked overall with the three main areas:

The digital dimension

UN's Sustainable Development Goals

Convention on the Rights of the Child

Environment and combating climate change

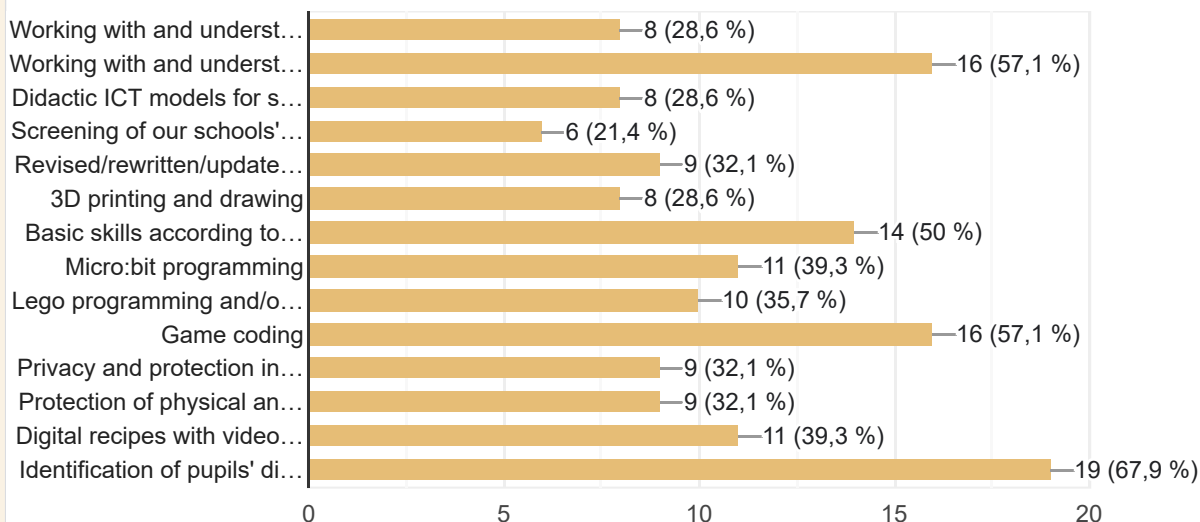

The involvement of school headmasters in the project

The Digital Dimension

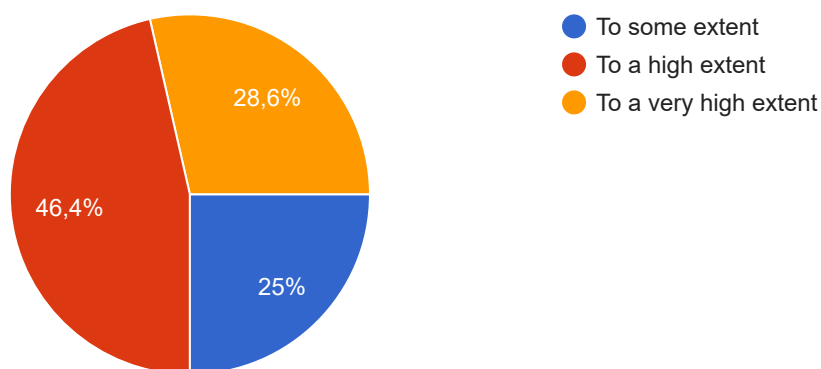

Below are mentioned some of the main areas we have worked on in relation to the Digital Dimension. Which of these topics (feel free to mention more) has had the greatest impact on you, both in terms of your own learning process and in terms of pupils' benefit from the teaching?

The involvement of school headmasters in the project

Throughout our collaboration, we have involved our school leadership/headmasters, and several of the headmasters have participated in our Transnational Project Meetings. To ensure the best possible dissemination and integration of our positive experiences into the daily life of our respective schools, we have, at times, specifically focused on this involvement. To what extent has this involvement contributed to enhancing the quality of our work (feel free to add comments below as well)?

Impact in daily planning

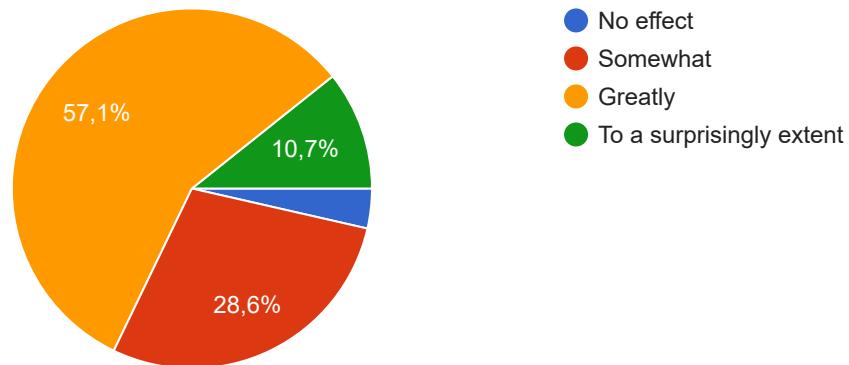

General elaborative questions about our collaboration

Have pupils' collaboration across borders such as letter exchanges or eTwinning collaborations helped to make the pupils more curious about further collaboration?
